From the August reports of the grow-ing crops, received at the Department of Agriculture, it appears that New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware, in the East; West Virginia, Kansas and Nebraska, in the West; and Arkansas, Alabama, Louage or more, in condition, of the corn crop, as compared with the same date last year, with a slightly increased acreage in New Jersey and Pennsylvania sin and Minnesota rate twenty to thirty per cent. below last year; Ohio twenty per cent. below; Iowa twenty per cent; Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee ten per cent. The New England States range from 10 to 15 per cent. below; New York twenty to twenty-five per cent.; Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee ten per cent., and South Carolina thirty per cent. below. Texas promises twenty per cent. better yield than last year, with an increased acreage as noted; and Kansas and Arkansas 10 per cent. better than last year .-In few of the larger States will the increase of acreage make up for the decrease in general condition, while in several of the largest corn-growing States the acreage has been reduced from last year, owing to the very unfavorable spring; hence it seems hardly possible that a crop equalling that of last year can now be made under the most favorable future, the season will fall considerably below that of '68. Drought has done much damdo much for the general yield, but a short crop appears inevitable. Illinois and In- tus. &c., &c. diana produced about one-fourth of the crop of the whole country last year, and to 35 per cent. Ohio, Iowa, Missouri, graduates. Kentucky and Tennessee, which raised one-third of the crop of 1868, promise a decreased yield of from 10 to 20 per cent. The season, which has been unpropitious for this great national crop, has however, proved favorable to most others, and though the corn be cut short there must be abundance in the land.

now report an improvement upon these estimates, and several of the more important cotton regions report the condition as better than in August of last year, the weather having been generally propitious and the injury by the worm comparatively inconsiderable, though there is no lack of apprehension of damage from the latter. Mississippi, the largest producer of this staple, with an increase of ten percent. in acreage, reports the condition cent. in acreage, reports the condition fully up to that of last season at that date. Georgia, condition equal to last year with fifteen per cent, increase in acreage; Louisiana, ten per cent, better in condition, and fifteen per cent. increase in acreage; Arkansas and Texas report condition above average, with twenty per cent. increase of acreage in the former and thirty per cent, in the latter State; and Florda, condition above average, with twentyfive per cent, increase in average. On the other hand, North Carolina reports the condition five to ten per cent. below last year, though the increase of acreage, ten per cent., balances the loss; Tennessee alone reports decreased acreage, and also reports condition ten per cent. below last year; Alabama, with eight per cent. increase in acreage, places the condition of the crop ten per cent. below that of showing, reporting the condition twentyfive per cent. below the crop of last year, but with an increase of seven or ten cent. in acreage. In view of the uncertainties of weather and danger of damage by insects to which the crop is subject, it is yet too early to estimate the production of the year with any degree of certainty; but it is reasonable to anticipate, with an aver- Female Institute, age increased of acreage equal to fifteen per cent., a yield fully up to the figures of 1868, which reached 2,500,000 bales, and there is nothing in the present prospect to discourage the present expectation of a considerable increase, which can alone be prevented by some signal disaster from weather or destructive insects.

KILL THE WEEDS .- All farmers are opposed to weeds, but many of them are not as earnest in their opposition as they should be. Not only should nearly all of the weeds be kept down, but they should all, if possible, be killed and utterly extion on fair trial. terminated. It is bad farming to permit any weeds to grow. Any compromise with weeds is dangerous. Destroy them, first, for the benefit of the present crop. Their destruction is necessary to the highest success of the present year's crop of corn, potatoes, and vegetables and fruits of all kinds. But for a still more important reason than this, should they all be destroyed. They should be kept down entirely, in order that the ground may not receive their seed again this year. Kill weeds, not only for the advantage of present crops, but also for the advantage of future crops. Ploughing and hoeing only a portion of the weeds to death, with enough left to seed the ground, is only halfway work. It is a compromise that will turn out badly for the farmer. Absolutely clean cultivation is something which should be aimed at, even if it cannot be reached. The farmer who has the highest aim will reach the highest perfection. And farmers should not be content, as some of them are, in merely keeping the weeds down on that part of their land only which is under 'cultivation. Some farmers seem to believe that if they keep their corn and potato fields clean, they may very well permit weeds to grow in the yards and lanes, and along all their fences. This is bad. Weeds should be AT MOBILE. followed into their last retreats. If they followed into their last retreats. If they fall back into the fence corners, follow them up and slay them, and thus prevent the 15th of November next. the maturing of their seed.

Commence now to kill the weeds whenever they appear. They are most easily killed while they are young. Keep them in subjection if not out of sight entirely. Make no compromise—submit to no truce. Kill and utterly exterminate the weeds wherever they can be found, and com-mence now. This is the day.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By that imely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul cruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, cruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no phia and New York Plan Office and Warerooms, No. 9, N. Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it but now have more preparations. for it, but more because many preparations pretending to be concentrated extracts of it. contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla.

During late years the public have been mis-led by large hottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsapa-rille, but often no counting. or any thing else. rilla, but often no curntive properties whatev-er. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complet eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on
